

Hercules Reading # 2 Hercules Leads the Thebans to Victory Paragraph #1 adsum adesse, adfui, adfuturus ad + sum the sum part gets conjugated	be near, be present, arrive Aegyptii, orum	the Egyptians alter, alter, alterum alter....alter	another one.....the other ara, arae	altar

autem	however, moreover Busiris, Busiris
caput, capitis (n.)	head catena, catenae	chain
conatus, conatūs	effort conicio, conicere, conieci, coniectum	throw consuesco, consuescere, consuevi, conseutum	be accustomed crudelis, crudele	cruel culter, cultri	knife
dimitto, dimittere, dimisi, dimissum	send out, send away, dismiss dum	while etiam	also
finis, finis (i-stem) m.	borders, boundary, end iam	now
ibi	there, in that place ictus, ūs	blow igitur	therefore immolo, immolare, immolavi, immolatum	sacrifice ipsum from the pronoun ipse, ipsa, ipsum which is declined very much like ille	himself herself, itself, themselves used to add emphasis iter, itineris (n.)	journey manus, manūs	hand
mola, ae	meal (as in corn meal or any other finely ground grain) occido, occidere, occisi, occisum	kill omnis, omne	all, every paro, parare, paravi, paratum	prepare pono, ponere, posui, positum	put, place, position quidam (qui + -dam) the qui part can be declined. quidam, cuiusdam, cuidam etc.	a certain... quondam	once rapio, rapere, rapui, raptum	seize, grab, take regno, regnare, regnavi, regnatum	rule rumpo, rumpere, rupi, ruptum	break, burst, erupt, destroy sacerdos, sacerdotis m.	priest sacrificium, sacrificii	sacrifice salsus, a, um	salted sto, stare, steti, statum	stand subito	suddenly
sumo, sumere, sumpsit, sumptum	take, use, consume tamen	nevertheless
tum	then
vinco, vincere, vinxi, victum	bind vinculum, vinculi	chains

Vocabulary for Hercules Leads the Thebans to Victory paragraph 2-3

PARAGRAPH 2	PARAGRAPH 3 adulescens, adulescentis – young man	Erginus, i – proper name Thebes, Thebarum – city of Thebes (plural form, but only one city) Thebis is in the ablative – it is not necessary to include the preposition “in” it is understood with cities	ob- preposition – on account of, because of appello, appellare- call, name	vehementer – vehemently, strongly, extremely Minyae, Minyarum – the Minyae (a nation)	iratus, a, um – angered gens, gentis (f.) – nation, race, people	statim – immediately bellicosus, a, um – warlike, belligerent, bellicose	copiae, arum – troops, supplies Thebanus, a, um – Theban	contendo, contendere- hurry finitimus, a, um – neighboring, neighbor	adventus, -us – arrival mitto, mittere- send	per – preposition – through, by, by way of venio, venire, veni, ventum – come	explorator, exploratoris – scout, spy centum- 100	cognosco, cognoscere, cognovi, cognotum – learn bos, bovis, f. cow	imperator, imperatoris – commander postulo, postulare – ask, demand	dimitto, dimittere, dimisi, dimissum – send out supero, superare, superavi, superatum – defeat, conquer	cogo, cogere, coegi, coactum – gather, collect, force tributum, I – tax, tribute, payment	proximus, a, um – next pendo, pendere – pay, weigh	profectus est – deponent – (he) set out tributo- ablative of separation – supply the word “from”	locus, i – place, location constituo, constituere – decide, set up, establish	idoneus, a, um – ideal, suitable comprehendo, comprehendere – seize	deligo, deligere, delegi, delectum – select, choose auris, auris (f.) – ear	acies, -ei – battleline abscido, abscidere – cut off	instructo, -ere, -instruxi, instructum – arrange, set up apud – preposition – among, in the presence of, belonging to	impetus, -us – an attack sanctus, a, um – protected by law from harm, sanctified	facio, facere, feci, factum – make, do sustineo, sustinere – sustain, withstand, resist potuerunt – from possum – able ita – in this way fuga, ae – flight converto, convertere, conversi, conversum – turn